COVID-19 (Coronavirus) Safety

Importance of Social Distancing During COVID-19 Event

McMinnville Water and Light has taken precautionary measures to help protect the health and safety of our customers and employees during this COVID-19 health emergency, but we could also use your help!

As an essential service provider, McMinnville Water and Light employees are practicing social distancing (as safety rules allow) while continuing to provide reliable water and power to all customers during the COVID-19 public health emergency. Although our field employees (crews, meter readers, engineering staff, etc.) always appreciate a friendly wave, we want to remind the public of the importance of keeping a safe and social distance while they work to maintain our critical electric and water systems. To help prevent the spread of COVID-19, MW&L is asking the public to maintain a safe social distance of at least 6 feet from crews and field representatives. This will allow employees to continue serving the community in a safe manner.

Thank you for your understanding and flexibility during this uncertain time. We continue to be here to provide you with water and electric service that you can rely on.

Thank you and stay safe.
